'Barbed wire standard,' P.O. tells Times

PLEASANTON — The controversial barbed wire on top of the new post office fence has become standard operating procedure because of gasoline siphoning and other malicious mischief, a postal official told The Times yesterday.

Although an eight - foot chain link fence with barbed wire on top has been standard procedure at new post offices for at least two years, it is possible to get it changed, said the official, W.J. Maisch, manager for the Internal Crime Branch of the regional post office.

"If a community has no problems or if similar organizations have not experienced vandalism trouble with vehicles, the barbed wire might well come off," said Maisch. "If there are such problems, I would think that people would want to leave it there."

"In some communities, the barbed wire is out of place or there is a city code which would prohibit it. Although the government property is not subject to these codes, we try to conform and serve the community," said Maisch.

City Planning Commission Chairman Walt Wood has questioned whether the post office tries to work that closely with the community. He never saw anything about the barbed wire on plans which the regional post office sent the planning commission as a courtesy. A check of the plans by The Times shows that the postal folks gave an aerial view of the facility and inked in a line about an "8.0 foot chain link fence," but nothing is told about barbed wire, which, in Pleasanton, is illegal without a planning variance.

Maisch said barbed wire has been standard operating procedure since 1974 when new standards were established for post office construction. He thinks the headquarters in Washington, D.C., has made some provisions for a variance in the standards, but he doesn't know whether barbed wire would be one of the conditions which can be changed.

"In the last four years, there has been a greater value placed on security because of the cost of repairing vehicles," said Maisch. "Since the high prices for gas, people siphoning gas is a problem which has become more common. Loss of batteries and tires and damage to vehicles has caused security measures to increase," said Maisch.

Finanical losses from vandalism comes out of the budget for the local post office, so the local postmaster would have a stake in the barbed wire dispute, said Maisch.

Local Postmaster Mark Foster did not have any comment on the merits of the barbed wire. All he knows about local dissatisfaction is what he read in The Times, he said.

"If the city is opposed to the fence, it wouldn't hurt for them to write to me. I could forward it to the people (at the regional post office) who ought to hear about it," said Foster.

The planning commission has written the private San Jose architect who designed the post office under contract, but it will take time for that letter to make its way through the proper channels, said Foster.

However, thanks to The Times inquiries at the regional post office, T.E. Shelton who heads postal inspection for the region is aware of the Pleasanton complaint and has called Foster. The local postmaster said that apparently Shelton is the person who will make the decision about whether to get rid of the barbed wire.

Postal officials in the past have told the The Times that the new post office's proximity to Amador High School and incidents of vehicle vandalism at the Pacific Teleqhone Company center on Black Avenue prompted the decision to have an eight-foot fence with barbed wire.

The Times asked the police department about vandalism in the area.

"It's possible that you would have more malicious mischief at the new location of the post office than the old one," said Captain Ronald Nelson. "The current post office location (on Main Street near City Hall) is out of the way and there is not as much passing traffic. I don't know if the new location calls for barbed wire."

There have been complaints of malicious mischief in the past at nearby Amador High School, said Nelson. The most recent incident came a week and a half ago when vandals slashed tires on school buses parked in a lot next to the high school. There were some reports of "car clouts" where thieves broke into cars and stole tape decks at the Pacific Telephone lot, but there have been no problems with thieves or vandals there since football season, said Nelson.

The Hub Lounge and Sportsmen's Grill at the northwest corner of First Street and Livermore Avenue (left) were boarded up months ago in preparation for their fate — complete demolition (right) in order to make way for the re-alignment of the First Street/Livermore Avenue intersection and the planting of a green mini-park. (Times Photos)

Beauty begins with a heap of rubble

LIVERMORE — The medicine looked worse than the cure yesterday as the city took the first steps to beautify(downtown Livermore and re - align the First Street / Livermore Avenue intersection.

What eventually will be a mini - park at the northwest corner of First Street and Livermore Avenue yesterday was a heap of rubble — the remains of The Hub Lounge and The Sportsmen's Grill.

Kitty - corner, on what also will become a mini - park, the bare earth remained exposed and undeveloped.

Yellow traffic barriers interrupted the flow of automobiles and jackhammers deafened by - passers in the early afternoon.

Activity began Sunday as workmen removed the glass from the demolished buildings and the Livermore Heritage Guild moved in to take possession of The Hub Lounge sign and an old wooden telephone booth from the bar.

The buildings were leveled Monday morning with a Catepillar as the old wood and concrete block frame structure gave way to the machinery.

But when all is completed — the city hopes by July — the area will feature two lush green mini - parks, a straightened - out intersection, and traffic - actuated signals with left turn lanes from First Street onto Livermore Avenue.

Over the next few days, weeks and months, the debris from the demolished buildings will be removed as will the existing curbs, gutters and sidewalks along the northwest corner. New curbs, gutters and sidewalks will be installed several feet back from the existing ones in order to straighten out the alignment of First Street with Livermore Avenue.

City figures put the total cost of the project at $163,000, including the two mini - parks. The contract with Teichert Construction of Stockton is for $105,000, covers the re - alignment and signalization, and half the tab will be picked up by the state.

According to project engineer Rick Dondro, both First Street and Livermore Avenue will be open to traffic although the number of lanes may be reduced. He also advised caution for pedestrians because where they may safely cross the streets will be changed from time to time. — By Karel Kramer

Hickey's one man war evokes response from officials

PLEASANTON — Neil Hickey's one - man war on environmental restrictions has earned him response from elected officials, from Pleasanton's ex - mayor Ed Kinney to U.S. Senators Alan Cranston and John Tunney and Rep. Pete Stark.

Hickey, a resident of Bacon Court, feels laws that specify how individuals may use their land infringes on their rights.

The energetic Pleasantonite is also a builder, specializing in putting up A - frames and mountain cabins at Lake Tahoe. So his special gripe is with the California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency (CTRPA), the board that throws up building restrictions on the California shores of the popular lake.

It was in January that Hickey finished an analysis of the problem (the Sierra Club was taking over personal property rights, he said) and published Part One of a report, "Are We Losing Our Personal Property Rights to Appointed Governmental Agencies?"

The report, like Part Two which is just out, was a project for a housing inspection course Hickey was taking at Chabot College.

Hickey mailed or hand - delivered copies of Part One to elected officials and asked for their responses.

From local Assemblyman Floyd Mori, he was disappointed to receive not even an acknowledgement to his complaints.

Ed Kinney, then mayor of Pleasanton, was receptive a long letter, he commensurate: "Investors, construction workers, and those seeking suitable housing will all experience major disruptions in their lives due to unreasonable mitigation measures established by the ultra - environmentalist.

"The environmental bureaucrats are having fun with their new toy of powers granted by federal law...

"Neil, I hope that you perceive my record on the Pleasanton City Council and as Mayor to have reflected your concern for individual property rights ... I have not used the 'fear of degradation of our environment' cries sued in some communities to prohibit development of privately owned property...

"I hope that the broadly written Environmental Protection Act can be reduced to a reasonable level of constraints. I hope that society will re - kindle a trust for politicians which will eliminate the need for Prop. 9 type laws and red tape..."

But not everyone agreed with Hickey's complaints regarding strict environmental controls.

Rep. Fortney "Pete" Stark sent him a five - paragraph letter noting, "Someone once said that we treat the world like we had a spare in our trunk.

"There is only one Lake Tahoe. Its protection, its preservation, its ecological integrity are in the national environmental interest. That public interest occasionally takes precedence over private benefits when the injury goes beyond the individual's piece of earth.

"This is true in zoning laws, this is true in outdoor burning ordinances, this is true when a unique area is in danger of being despoiled."

Gordon Hooper, chairman of the CTRPA, wrote Hickey a detailed letter suggesting, "Rapid growth and the attendant complexities of our urban and rural communities have resulted in the difficult trade - offs we must make ... The long range aspirations of Basin residents, second - homeowners, visitors and business interests are all tied to an environment which is to a degree unique and unspoiled..."

Hickey calls it "most inconsiderate" that Gov. Edmund G. Brown, as well as Assemblyman Mori, did not respond to his January letter and report.

Sen. John Tunney defends CTRPA: "I believe it is imperative that such an agency function ... I do not believe that sound environmental policy and economic growth are goals which need conflict ... What is the cost in terms of human health of polluted air or water?"

Sen. Holmdahl forwarded a copy of a press release announcing that he, on the other hand, is trying to eliminate the requirement for individual environmental impact reports for building projects that conform to a city or county general plan for which an impact report has already been filed.

Dixon Arnett, state Assembly minority whip, sent the most encouragement: "I feel the CTRPA is simply dead weight."

On the other hand, Sen. Cranston referred Hickey to his state legislators since CTRPA is a state agency, not a federal one.

With all his letters from politicians photocopied and bound into his report, Hickey is not sure what he will do next to fight the frustration of trying to build at Tahoe.

"But," he observes, "I've learned a lot about politicians.

"Mainly, I've learned that they answer certain selected points and never really address the whole question.

"If I ever do this again, I'm going to send them questionnaires so they have to give each question a specific answer."

Smog to be Chamber topic

PLEASANTON — "Where does smog come from, and what can we do about it?"

That is one question certain to be asked today when a representative from the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District appears before a luncheon meeting of the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce.

Mike Macomber, assistant for technical services with BAIPC, has promised to "do my best to come up with answers to your Valley's questions about air pollution." An ongoing debate involving local leaders and the Alameda County Board of Supervisors is centered on that question of "the origin of this Valley's smog."

The no - host luncheon at the Pleasanton Hotel is open to the public, and is expected to attract a Valley - wide audience.

Sheriff trails CB thieves

The Sheriff's Department has begun tracing the location and timing of citizen band radio thefts in the unincorporated areas of the county in an attempt to find a pattern — and they may have succeeded.

Of the more than 50 reported CB unit thefts in the last three months, most have occurred in the old San Ramon Village area between 12 and 6 a.m. on no special day of the week.

All of the thefts were from newer model cars with wing windows, which are easily opened with a screwdriver to allow entrance. In every case, the sliding lock on the wing window was pushed open, but never broken.

No special street pattern of theft can be discerned, which is to be expected, said Sgt. Bill Ziegler of the Sheriff's Dept. "Burglars go where the CB radios are," he said.

Every car burglarized at night had an external whip antenna, was parked in the street, and was entered via the passenger side wing window.

Deputies are investigating the possibility that the recent rash of home burglaries is being committed by the same thieves that are taking the CB units.

A walkie - talkie was found in a Livermore house burglary recently, and deputies suspect that burglars used stolen radio equipment to coordinate the theft and remain alerted to street movements by an outside accompliance.

Other recent events have led authorities to believe that CB burglars are using scanners to keep informed of police whereabouts while committing thefts. Some observers think a splinter CB group is broadcasting police and California Highway Patrol positions to avoid speeding tickets and other law enforcement.

More than half of the CB units stolen recently had serial numbers recorded and provided to police, yet not one has turned up either in random checks or at flea markets, a traditional selling point for stolen gear. It is a crime to possess any item from which the serial number has been removed.

Deputies are now stopping suspicious cars that have CB antennas to check serial numbers, but no stolen units have been recovered.

The recent increase in CB radio thefts has dramatically stopped in the last few days since patrols increased, a deputy added.

Pleasanton man stabbed after robbery

PLEASANTON — A Pleasanton man is in fair condition after being stabbed several times in the back and chest Friday afternoon.

Robert Price, 42, of 1302 Hopyard Road, told police he picked up a hitchhiker near Livermore Friday and offered to drive the man home and have a beer.

After about an hour of conversation, the hitchhiker suddenly produced a knife and demanded all of Price's money. When Price replied that he had no money, the man became enraged and stabbed Price several times.

The suspect took $50 from the home and fled on foot. He is described as a Latino, about 20, five feet eight inches tall, with several tattoos and possibly named "Alex."

Price was taken to Valley Memorial Hospital in fair condition and transferred to Kaiser in Walnut Creek, where his condition is described as good.

Trio confesses to series of statue thefts

LIVERMORE — A Fremont man and two Pleasanton youths have reportedly confessed to stealing decorative lawn statues from front yards of three Muirwood Drive homes.

Police arrested the trio in Livermore Sunday as they attempted to store the stolen statues at a friend's house there.

Arrested were Kenneth Lee Altstatt, 19, of Fremont, a 15-year-old Pleasanton girl and her 13-year-old brother.

Police said the trio first stole a $25 birdbath from Lillian Garrett's Muirwood Drive home early Sunday. They later added a $35 birdbath from Oliver Gordan Kinney's Muirwood Court home, and a $210 statue of a couple under an umbrella from Jack Lee Coffeen's Muirwood Drive home, to their collection.

The suspects were arrested as they traveled to Livermore in an attempt to store the statues. Each gave a written confession to police, and said they had planned to sell the statues at a flea market.

Police will ask the district attorney to file charges against Altstatt, accusing him of grand theft, two counts of theft, and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The two youths were released to their parents with notices to appear in court.

Burglars hit Leahy Child Development Center

LIVERMORE — Burglars forced the lock to a window at the Leahy Child Development Center last week and stole more than $300 in valuables.

Director Claire Nelson said that thieves took a cassette tape recorder, two rolls of 13-cent stamps, a pocket calculator, and an 8mm movie projector, all valued at $308.50.

Police could uncover no evidence at the scene.

Secluded ranch house burglarized of furniture

LIVERMORE — Burglars broke into the Broken Arrow Ranch on Mines Road last week and stole a room full of antique furniture.

A Sheriff's Dept. spokesman said burglars first cut a one-inch steel gate hasp, and then kicked down the front door to enter Jess Lesico's ranch house.

At least two men and a truck were needed to remove furniture from the house, the spokesman said. Missing items include a 60-year-old cast iron stove valued at $500, an antique wood bed, dresser, brass bed headboard, and a crank-type Edison phonograph with two old-time recordings.

Sheriff's deputies from both Santa Clara and Alamdeda Counties said there had been a series of burglaries to weekend homes in the same area, and indicated they would increase patrols nf the area.

There were no clues at the scene, the spokesman said.

Cranston urges Tao house preservation

DANVILLE — Sen. Alan Cranston is urging that the U.S. government "preserve the home of America's greatest playwright before it is leveled by subdividers."

Cranston is pushing for preservation of Tao House as a national historic site. The house, and the surrounding 14 acres, were the home of writer Eugene O'Neill, who wrote his last and best plays in a darkened upstairs room.

Cranston has introduced a bill that would preserve the area. The Eugene O'Neill Foundation, a private, non - profit East Bay group, has already obtained title to the property and is raising money to purchase and donate Tao House in accordance with the Senate bill.

"Since the legislation calls only for accepting donated property, not direct federal purchase, I can see no justification for Congress or the Administration failing to fulfill their responsibility for preserving this unique site of historic and literary significance," he said.

Cranston noted, "In the past developers have eyed this property for a subdivision. Without this legislation, O'Neill's home at some future time could be lost to the public forever, and with it America would lose an irreplaceable link in its literary history."

A similar bill has been introduced into the House of Representatives by Congressman George Miller III (D - Contra Costa.)

O'Neill's Danville estate includes a 22 - room main house, two barns, a swimming pool and bathhouse and a caretaker's cottage. The house sits high on the eastern slope of Las Trampas Ridge overlooking Mt. Diablo and the San Ramon Valley. It is surrounded by several thousand acres of parkland owned by the East Bay Regional Park District.

The property could become a summer outdoor theatre and playwright in residence program. The house was built with $40,000 O'Neill won with the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1936. He and his wife called their home Tao House after the Oriental philosophy Taoism, which emphasizes the natural life of harmony, simplicity and peace.

Class teaches how not to be pushed around

Ever feel pushed around?

Most everyone does. A housewife gets sucked into working on a committee she doesn't have time for. A businessman has that third drink at a cocktail party even though he doesn't want it. A teen - ager goes along with the crowd because he doesn't know how to get out of it.

There are techniques for recognizing what you really want to do and for protecting your right to do it. They're all laid out in "Assertiveness training PLUS," a free communication training series for Valley parents, to be offered in Pleasanton, Dublin and Livermore.

Assertiveness training is a popular new approach to dealing with life's mounting demands.

According to organizers of the course, "We build resentments, feel martyred and guilty and helpless, have angry outbursts and keep trying to control ourselves into being "nice."

"Overall, we often give up some rights to affirm our own choices and values.

"Our children feel the same kinds of pressures to be liked and to avoid conflict. A major cause of drug and alcohol use among youth is that they don't know how to assertively resist peer pressure and the other influences around them to conform.

"Assertiveness Training PLUS," Hotline's free communication program for parents, offers some ways to learn to say "no" (or "yes") appropriately, firmly and without becoming aggressive.

"The training is based on the idea that parents who are calmly and assertively able to set realistic goals and limits for themselves project self - respect and are more self - actualizing.

"These skills when used within the family also provide good models for the children."

The training groups meet in two - hour sessions once a week for six weeks. Sets of the series will begin in March and again in May at the following times and places:

MONDAY, 1-3 p.m., Shannon Center, 11600 Shannon Ave., Dublin, March 22 - April 26, May 3 - June 7.

TUESDAY, 9-11 a.m., Franklin Savings and Loan, 561 Main St., Pleasanton, March 23 - April 27, May 4 - June 8.

7-9 p.m. Livermore Park and Recreation building (upstairs), 71 Trevarno Road, Livermore, March 23 - April 27, May 4 - June 8.

IRS hits Dublin Rotary

DUBLIN — If Dublin Rotary Club President Steve Stevens can find a few former members, he can save his club $18,550.

Stevens was notified by the Internal Revenue Service last week that the club owes the federal government $18,550 in penalties for not notifying IRS that the club is tax exempt.

The penalties cover the first five years of the club's existence.

The club did file the tax - exempt form in November, 1975, so it won't have to pay any penalties for 1975. But at $10 a day since their inception, they definitely owe $18,550, said Stevens.

The club can be excused from paying the penalties if it can come up with a reasonable explanation for the long miscue.

So Stevens is striving to find the officers from 1970 and subsequent years so he can write a letter of explanation for it.

He said the IRS enforcement headquarters in Pennsylvania has given him a "few days" to reply.

"There is no way we could raise that much money," Stevens told The Times. "Most of our revenues comes from members' dues, the rest from internal affairs. We don't have any community fundraisers."

Cancer society sponsors smoking clinic

SAN RAMON — A smoking cessation clinic, sponsored by the Contra Costa County Cancer Society, will begin a seven - part series April 5 in the lecture room of the Family Medical Center of Valley Memorial Hospital, located at 9260 Alcosta Blvd.

The "I Quit" clinic will meet from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and will continue for six additional two - hour sessions on Monday and Friday evenings in April.

At the first session on April 5, which is free, the program and methods will be explained and those attending will be allowed to decide whether to continue. For the rest of the classes, the fee is $15 to cover the cost of materials.

According to Cancer Society members, almost 40 per cent of those completing the course permanently stop smoking.

Dates for the sessions are April 5, 9, 12, 16, 19, 26 and 30.

Further information is available from the Cancer Society at 934-7640 or from the Family Medical Center, 829-5050.

Central number available

Alameda County citizens have frequently asked for a centralized number they could call for information on a service provided by the County Health Agency.

The county Health Care Services Agency now has such a number: 357 - 0121.

Valley residents will be relieved to know that once they reach the San Leandro number, the county can call them back on a tie line to reduce the cost of the toll call.

Workers, including Spanish - speaking operator and community outreach worker, have a detailed listing of county - operated and private agency health resources. Telephone lines are open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Consumer's complaints aired by advisory board

Liberty House Department Store in Dublin has a Consumer's Advisory Board, made up of representative women from throughout the valley, who meet monthly to discuss means of improving the store's public image. Present at the March meeting were left to right: Lloyd Huck, the store's assistant manager, Ruth Holsen, Nancy O'Dell, Keyo Otsuki, Sharon Oster, Charlotte Herrera, Myrna Kutchera. Also on the board and not present in the picture are Reina Whitney and Jo Ann Dixon.

The second Tuesday of each month finds representative women from the surrounding valley communities meeting as a Consumer's Advisory Board for Liberty House in Dublin. They meet with the executive management plus a different department manager each time in an effort to get feed-back from the public about the department store's services, competitive prices, courtesy and, in general, how to best improve their public image.

The women represent a cross section of the valley's population from Danville to Livermore. They include housewives, club women and women in business. A specific project is mailed to them each month on which to concentrate as they do their shopping.

March's point of concentration was the women's ready-to-wear department, with the store manager of that department, Sharon Oster, present to receive the imput.

Such questions as "How does our store compare in price to other stores of comparative size and quality?, Was our personnel courteous and helpful?, Are there ways we can improve our services?" were asked Actual brand names were discussed and compared with two other leading stores in the Walnut Creek area. Notes are taken by a store secretary for the "rap sessions" which sometimes become rather animated.

Members of the panel include: Myrna Kutchera and Reina Whitney of Dublin; Nancy O'Dell of Livermore; Ruth Holsen, a seamstress from Danville and Jo Ann Dixon, engaged in real estate in the valley. Present from the Lberty House organization besides Ms. Oster were Lloyed Huck, assistant manager of the Dublin store, and Keyo Otsuki and Charlotte Herrera, store secretaries.

If you know any of these women, you are welcome to raise any criticism, positive or negative, of the store, its merchandise or its services, so they can discuss it at the next meeting in April.

Lilly of the Valley

It was a party to end or begin (?) all parties!

Seems a young lady here in Pleasanton never had a birthday party in her life and of course, from time to time let it be known, especially around her birthday.

Today, she may regret doing that for her friend gave a party in her honor that she or those in attendance won't forget for a long time to come!

It wasn't just another ordinary party although it was a surprise — probably a shock — when the honored guest took a look at her well wishers.

The theme was different and followed all the way through — "first birthday party." All guests dressed as little girls wearing bows in their hair, Mary Jane shoes and dresses that had my daughter commenting, "Mom, you're not going out of the house looking like that are you?" Seems mother has heard those words before but from a different speaker.

You must remember the theme, "first birthday." It was not stated what age so it could have been from age one to — oh, well, anyway, each guest could use her own imagination and that she did!

One guest arrived being pushed by her "nanna" in a baby buggy sipping orange jucie (??) from a baby bottle. One could only guess her age after she daintly stepped out of the buggy displaying the latest fashion in baby nighties.

Being it was a "surprise" the birthday gal arrived dressed to go to lunch with her friend. Of course, the hostess wanted the young miss to fit in with her guest so she managed to have the appropriate attire for the honored to wear. And just like that "age" group, the young lady threw a temper tantrum crying, "I'm not going to put that dress on!"

With some friendly persuasion she conceded. Went upstairs and returned to the room receiving a round of applause. Oh, yes, every young lady must wear a crown on her day and what was more appropriate but a "special" crown. This one didn't just say, "Happy Birthday," no sirree — it was decorated with beautiful jewels, befitting to a queen.

The language used by the young lady when she saw her jeweled crown was not particularly the Queen's nor King's language. Being the good sport she always is she donned the crown and only yelled once when it was stapled (accidentally of course) to her head!

Once the birthday girl was fully and properly attired for this great occasion the party really began.!!

Playing those "little" girl games sure is different when you are actually that age against "regressing" to the age. One's sense of direction certainly changes when blindfolded. The fact the target kept moving had no bearing on the players ability nor did those wine coolers.

No one, but no one enjoyed opening her gifts more than the "first" birthday girl. She slowly admired each gift before opening it — to the point where her guests were afraid she would outgrow the gifts before they were opened.

The birthday table was beautifully decorated with streamers, balloons and specially decorated hats for each guest. The cake contained only one candle since fire conditions might have prevailed had the necessary number of candles been placed on the cake. Such a resounding of "Happy Birthday" was never heard before.

AAUW scholarships available

The Livermore-Pleasanton Branch of the American Association of University of Women Committee announces that applications for their 1976-77 scholarships are now available.

These scholarships will be awarded to women who reside in the Livermore Amador Valley or who have graduated from one of its high schools. Applicants must expect to have at least a Junior standing in September at an accredited four-year college and plan to complete their full course of study in two years, or, if a senior, in one year.

Recipients are chosen on a basis of need and scholarstic achievement, but it is stressed that they need not be "A" students. The amount of the scholarships will vary from $200 to $400, depending on the funds available Scholarship winners from last year may also apply for a renewal.

Applications may be obtained at Chabot College or by sending a legal size, stamped, self-addressed envelope requesting an application to Mae S. Tilles, 2663 Pillsbury Court, Livermore, California, 94550. All applications must be in the hands of Mrs. Tilles, chairman of the Scholarship Committee, no later than April 7, 1976

Eligible candidates will be notified of personal interviews which will be held April 17 at the Livermore Public Library.

AAUW first granted a scholarship to a valley woman in 1966. In 1975, nine college scholarships were awarded plus one full-year tuition to the Nursery School Scholarship Fund for a disadvantaged child.

Last years scholarship winners were: Ellen Bertelsen, Teresa Bobba, Edan Grasberger, Nadine Kenny, Evelyn Ressler, Melanie Sawatsky and Kathryn Ann Scholl.

AAUW scholarships are made possible by the annual used book sale.

Any woman with a baccalaureate degree or higher from an accredited college or university may apply for membership in AAUW. For information, call Ginny Faltings, membership chairwoman at 443-0238.

Teen pageant

Young ladies of this area are invited to enter the fifth annual California Teen-Age Pageant to be held at the University of Calif., Berkeley, Calif., June 26. The Miss California Teen-Age Pageant is the official state preliminary to the Miss National Teen-Age Pageant to be held in Atlanta, Georgia, August, 1976. The University of Calif., at Berkeley will be the host college for the three-day event, June 25, 26 and 27, 1976.

Contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement - leadership; poise, personality; and beauty. There is no swim suit or talent competition.

A mini - modeling charm course will be given during the week-end of the pageant.

The winner of the Miss California Pageant will receive a scholarship, other prizes and an all - expense paid trip to compete in the Miss National Teen-age pageant in Atlanta. Contestants must be between 13 and 17 years of age as of Jan. 1, 1976 (Born on or after Jan. 2, 1958).

Any teen-ager interested in entering the Miss California Teen-age Pageant may write for information to Mrs. Sybil Shaffer, 215 Piedmont Ave., N.E., Atlanta, Georgia 30308, or call (404) 659-4610.

In 1975 the National Pageant awarded among other prizes: $10,000 in cash scholarships (for use at the accredited school of the winner's choice); Lincoln - Mercury Bobcat; $2,000 personal appearance contract; 11-day trip to Spain; Mink cape; Broyhill bedroom suite; diamond pin set and gold pendant; scholarship to the American National Academy of Performing Arts in Hollywood; tuition scholarships to the Fashion Institute of America, and six expense paid vacations to all Six Flags locations in St. Louis, Missouri; Houston, Texas; Atlanta, Georgia; Buena Park, Calif.; Dallas, Texas and Orlando, Florida.

Betty Burgle who selected the word, "creativity" as her topic for the International Toastmistress Club, Council 13 Speech Contest held at the Pleasanton Hotel on March 20 was the winner over three other speakers. Her presentation took six minutes and 49 seconds.

Danish lodge card party

The monthly Card Party sponsored by the Danish Ladies' Lodge, Danebod No. 16, will be held Tuesday, March 30, at the Dania Hall at 2 p.m. Chairman for the afternoon event will be Mrs. Ruth Nielsen. Assisting her will be Mrs. Dorothy Jensen, Mrs. Veta Norman, and Mrs. Karen Farraldo. Following bridge and whist, refreshments will be served and score prizes awarded.

Saturday, April 3, Anita and Robert Nielsen, presidents of Danebod No. 16 and Dannevang No. 7, will preside over the regular monthly stated meetings. In charge of the refreshments will be Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hansen and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Thompson. Final plans will be formulated for the "Luncheon is Served" scheduled for Monday, May 3 at the Dania Hall at 12 noon, and for a Spring Dance set for Saturday, May 15.

Delegates from both lodges will be attending the annual Dania Convention for Lodges in California and Nevada in Reno, April 21 through 24.

Don Bowers (center) was the Pleasanton Lions Club first recipient of the "Outstanding Citizen Award" Tuesday night during the club's meeting at Hap's in Pleasanton. Mayor Bob Philcox who spoke a few words of congratulations to Bowers, looks on while Bill Holden, president of the club presents the long time Lion member with his plaque. The award, instigated by Lions National will be a yearly event.

Drug bill

Assemblyman Floyd Mori's bill proposing stricter controls on the dispensing of pharmaceuticals is expected to go to the Assembly floor this week.

Mori told The Times last week he intends to control certain abuses in drug dispensing which have arisen from a small minority of doctors. Certain weight doctors and vitamin doctors have been dispensing pills themselves, said Mori.

"They charge high prices, don't label core correctly, or in some cases they don't put them in safe containers," said the assemblyman. "They don't do things which pharmacists are required to do by law."

"We just had a package of empty containers brought into my office," Mori said from his office in Sacramento. "It was appalling. I wish you could get a picture of these pills confiscated from a doctor. I never saw so many in my life. They were amphetamines prescribed for weight reduction."

Mori said the that pharmacists from all over the state held a convention in Sacramento last week and lent their support to the bill.

Panel aims for hospital in SRV

DANVILLE — A committee is being formed to obtain a hospital for the San Ramon Valley.

Thirty area physicians and many patients have already indicated their support of the idea, said Dr. M.R. Goldman of the Danville Medical Group.

Dr. Goldman and other local doctors have spent 1½ years studying projected population growth, availability of land, cost of construction and political implications that would affect the project.

"It's an obvious fact a hospital is needed for these communities," Dr. Goldman said.

Persons from the valley in need of hospital services have to travel to John Muir Memorial Hospital in Walnut Creek, Valley Memorial Hospital in Livermore and hospitals in San Francisco, Berkeley and Castro Valley, he said.

"It's a 25 to 30-minute drive to John Muir and 35 to 40 minutes to Valley Memorial. If you have a heart attack, it's critical what care you can get within five minutes," Dr. Goldman said.

He thinks now is the time to plan for a hospital to serve residents of Alamo, Danville, San Ramon, Dublin and Pleasanton.

Thirty doctors have already signed a petition calling for the planning and development of such a facility.

"Right now the valley is at the onset of its development. We hope to make people aware of the need for a hospital before they feel the effect later" of not having one, he said.

It would probably take two more years of work before there could be a hospital centrally located in the area, probably in San Ramon, he said.

A master plan for the facility is being formulated by the San Ramon Valley Hospital Development Association which will meet next month.

Dr. Goldman is hopiqg to interest local doctors, lawers and residents in the program.

"This is something for the people in the valley. We're talking about a real quality, top-notch hospital," he said.

One of the things the committee will do is investigate how to finance a hospital.

Portions of the valley are already in two hospital districts, John Muir and Valley Memorial.

"But the boundaries are vague," he said.

Dr. Goldman said the population is growing rapidly so the valley could handle its own hospital.

His medical group alone saw from 200 to 300 new patients last month, he said.

"I know it's possible. It's just a question of when," he said.

City proponents near signature goal

SAN RAMON — Petition - gatherers from Taxpayers for Local Control through Incorporation report they have gathered more than half of the needed signatures to place the incorporation question on the November ballot.

Claudia Nemir, chairperson of the petition drive, says that approximately 3,000 names have been collected to date. Valid signatures of 4,000 Valley residents are needed to have the issue considered by the board of supervisors.

The petition drive will continue until nearly 8,000 signatures have been collected. The overage will insure that 4,000 valid names were collected.

Petition carriers will still be working for the next few weeks, walking door to door and covering business locations to collect names.

Anyone interested in helping in the petition drive or wishing to sign a petition can contact John Meakin at 829-3795.

Summer playground jobs open

DUBLIN — Valley Community Services District is accepting applications for summer employment for playground leaders, lifeguards and aquatics lifeguard instructors.

Applicants may apply at the recreation office, 11600 Shannon Ave , Dublin. For information about pay rates, qualifications, and hours, call the recreation department at 828-7711.

Nuclear power course offered

Chabot College is offering a weekly probe into the merits of the nuclear power initiative beginning next week.

The college's valley campus will offer a course which will meet for one hour each Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in Room 204. The campus is located at 3033 Collier Canyon Road, Livermore.

Registration for the class will be taken on Wednesday, March 31, from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the valley campus and at the first class meeting April 8, if there is room in the class then.

Course number is Physical Science 24 with Dr. Art Deleray the instructor. One credit is offered on a credit/ no credit basis. The same course is offered at the Hayward campus on Tuesdays at noon.

Tentative course schedule is: April 8, Background, Demand for Energy, Who want Wants Energy?; April 15, Energy Flow through Society; April 22, Alternate Sources of Energy; April 29, Conservation of Energy; May 6, Nuclear Power, Background and Theory — Energy from Matter?; May 13, the Nuclear Safeguards Initiative; May 20, Arguments for Nuclear Power; May 27, Arguments Against Nuclear Power; June 3, Analysis of Campaign, What are the Tactics?, and June 10, Reflection on tth the Election.

California voters will decide the Nuclear Safeguards Initiative in the primary election June 8. For more information about the course, call Chabot College, 455-5300.

Short LUSD meeting tonight

LIVERMORE — The Livermore Unified School District will meet briefly in public session tonight in the Education Center, 685 Las Positas Blvd.

Trustees will hear comments from members of the audience and will approve a list of students asking to be exempt from physical education this semester. They are also expected to approve a resolution approving the Child Nutrition Act of 1974.

The board will then meet in closed session to continue their discussion of personnel.

Disney stresses flexibility

Flexible class areas

Tim Flynn points out flexibility of pod area at Walt Disney School in San Ramon. Movable walls allow teachers to combine class activities or study independently of other classes in pod. In this instance, teachers have abutting desks. School also features special studies areas that permit teachers to work with groups on math, reading and arts. Flynn is a sixth grade teacher at the two-year old facility on Pine Valley Road. Times Photo

SAN RAMON — Walt Disney School is a showcase of the San Ramon Valley Unified School District that emphasizes flexibility of interior space, student and teacher interaction and "the three Rs."

Though the present facility on Pine Valley Road is just two years old, Disney has been in operation at other locations including portables at another site on Pine Valley and at neighboring Neil Armstrong School.

Named after the eminent cartoonist who gave his name to a pair of major amusement parks in Southern California and Florida, the schools house approximately 650 students in grades kindergarten through sixth.

Bonnie Hutchins is principal.

Mrs. Hutchins leads a staff that enjoys the flexibility of pod areas, the rich carpeting and airiness of the library area and the potential of the surrounding grounds.

Disney is perhaps the "ultimate" in the new educational style that allows teachers to team teach or work with a separate group in a particular discipline such as mathematics.

District funds for landscaping, like so many other districts, are limited but that hasn't slowed the staff and parents in the community.

Through their cooperative efforts, flowered areas have been put in and improvements made to the playground.

The school is also the locale of many recreation classes offered by the Valley Community Services District. Recreation Director Pete Vallarino reminds that crafts classes are currently underway at the school. More information on this and other VCSD recreation classes may be had by calling the main VCSD offices on Dublin Boulevard in Dublin.

One of the features at Disney School is the display board in the main entry way. Featured are pictures and descriptions of the "Student of the Week" in each of three pods— Adventureland pod, Tomorrowland pod, and Frontierland pod.

The multi-colored display board with cutouts and photos of famous Disney cartoon characters, combined with the attractive red and blue carpeting, makes the school a technicolor delight.

Another feature of the school is the daily reading period. Teachers set aside a specific time in which everyone puts aside their studies, picks up a book and reads for 20 minutes to a half-hour— and that's everybody including teachers!

Disney will soon loose the "newest elementary school in the district" appelation with the completion of Greenbrook Elementary.

The latter will take students from the south-central section of the San Ramon district.

The South San Ramon community will also be gaining another school a year from September when an intermediate grade facility is opened (hopefully!) on Broadmoor.

This school, now designated as South intermediate, would remove junior high grades now housed at California High School and take students now attending Country Club, Neil Armstrong and Disney.

Amador Adult Education offers new classes, more openings

Amador Adult Education director Mike Connolly reminds that there are still many openings in the program.

Also, a business machines course is being offered through the adult program at Dublin High School and got underway yesterday. The class will include personalized instruction using the Victor 10 key adding machines and computer along with the new Victor calculator. The course is designed to accomodate both high school students desiring credit and other adults who want to learn or improve their skills with business machines. Students may register in class.

Another new class being offered this quarter is one for beginning legal secretaries. The class is scheduled for Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 at Dublin High.

The course is designed to familiarize students wishing to enter the legal secretarial field, the basic concepts such as courts, terminology, preparation of documents and pleadings and legal office procedures.

A number of openings still exist in the following classes:

Citizenship, English, English for the foreign born, bookkeeping and accounting, beginning shorthand, typing, basic drawing and sketching, fashion illustrations, oils, beginning and intermediate pottery, stain glass, graphology, interior decorating, sewing (stretch knits), and contemporary science. All of the above classes are held at Dublin High School.

Classes held at Amador with openings include:

English for the foreign born, MTST, personalized mathematics, shorthand (brushup), business machines, beginning typing, intermediate typing, beginning and intermediate oils, pottery, sketching for beginners, beginning watercolors and acrylics, water-based media workshop, weaving as an art form, creative stitchery, macrame, beginning quilting, sewing, conversational French, Spanish and German, needlepoint, and know - your - Pleasanton - birds.

Classes held at Camp Parks that still have openings includd beginning tole painting, oils and acrylics, picture framing, home decorative arts and crafts, knitting and crocheting, sewing (stretch knits), and tailoring.

Persons wishing additional information on all classes should call the school district offices at 462-5500 between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Friday and ask for the Amador Adult Education office.

Italians need hosts

PLEASANTON— Thirty-five high school and college students from Milan, Italy will be visiting the Pleasanton area from July 29 to August 19.

The students, ages 15 to 23, come to the United States on programs originated by the Foreign Study League and come as students and not as tourists.

Their goal is to learn more about the U.S. and its people. Included, in the students' program will be various excursions to points of interest, such as San Francisco, Muir Woods, Carmel, the University of California campus and Berkeley.

Host families are asked to provide room and board to those students from July 30 to Aug. 18, about 20 days. Host families receive no financial reward for their hospitality so that the cost of the program can be kept at a level which average foreign students can afford.

Larry R. Moore, foreign language teacher at Amador Valley High School, is coordinator of the program. Any families who are genuinely interested in housing an Italian student should contact Moore at 846-2818 (days) or 447-6988 (evenings).

Pleasanton jazzfest Saturday

PLEASANTON— Jazz ensembles from Amador Valley High School, San Ramon High School and Pleasanton Middle School will leadoff this Saturday's first-ever Pleasanton Jazz Festival scheduled for the Alameda County Fairgrounds.

Organized by Ann Carroll and the Pleasanton Recreation Department, the festival features outstanding jazz groups from Bay Area high schools and junior highs, plus a special set by the California State Hayward jazz group.

All performances will be at the Fairgrounds Amphitheatre and Exhibition Building. Performances start at 9 a.m. and continue at half-hour intervals through 6 p.m.

An Amador ensemble directed by James Campana will leadoff the Amphitheatre performances at 9 a.m. Saturday. Each performance performance will be approximately one-half hour with the Golden Dons being followed by San Ramon, Granada "A"(10 a.m.), Pacific, Encinal, Menlo-Atherton, and Cal State Hayward (12 noon).

The afternoon sets start at 1 p.m. with Oakland High. They'll be followed by Mills of Millbrae, Livermore (2 p.m.), Awalt of Mountain View, Skyline of Oakland, Gunn of Palo Alto, Petaluma, Alhambra of Martinez, Los Altos and Hayward (5:30 p.m.).

Amador II, directed by Mark Lepiane, leads off the jazz sets in the Exhibition Building at 9 a.m. They are to be fnllowed by Pleasanton Middle School, directed by Fred Spaeth, at 9:25, John Muir, Loma Vista, Strobridge, Orinda and Martinez.

The afternoon performances start at with Mitchell Junior High. They'll be followed by Granada "B" (1:25), Menlo-Atherton, Alhambra, Mitchell, Jefferson, California (3:35), Sunset, Elk Grove, Mount Diablo and Edison (5:35).

Adjudicators for the latter performances will be John Maltester, Dave Turner, and Richard Bice.

Terry Summa, Dave Eschleman, and Phil Mattson are to judge the performances in the Amphitheatre.

Presentation of awards will be made following the final set in the Amphitheatre.

In case of rain, performances are to be given in the Young California and Exhibition buildings.

The Young California and Mineral and Gem buildings will also be used for warmup and storage of instruments.

For Tuesday, March 30, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) New projects should not be started in a hasty manner today. Persons whose cooperation you need may not be as anxious to move as you are.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Some past responsibilities you've neglected may get in the way of what you hope to do today. Clean up the old matters first.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be careful today not to slight an old friend for one you've met recently. It could cause a needless problem.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It's not likely you'll get too much support from others in achieving your goals today. Try to be self-sufficient.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't sound your ideas out on people that you know are negative to begin with. They could discourage you before you even try them.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Business deals you make today should be examined very closely to be sure you're fully apprised of all the facts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Normally you're a cooperative person and appreciate the value of compromising for mutual advantages. Today, you may take an unyielding position.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't take on tasks today that are beyond your scope and talents. Recognize your limitations. Act accordingly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Allow ample time before getting too deeply involved with new acquaintances. They may not be all they first seem.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be sure the family is in accord with any major domestic changes you're contemplating, or you may cause a turmoil.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Self-doubts today may overpower your bright ideas. If you don't fully believe in them yourself, others can't be expected to.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Manage your resources prudently today. Live within your means or you may be tempted to spend what you don't have.

your birthday

March 30, 1976

This year should be a very active one. You're likely to explore fields you've never tried before. Be cautiously selective of associates so they help, not hinder.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Today, every expert knows the standard safety play with this combination. You lead a heart to your ace at trick two and then lead back toward dummy. If West plays a low heart you stick in dummy's nine. This will lose a trick to a doubleton queen, but that will be all you lose. Against the actual holding of four to the queen-10 in the West hand you also lose one trick but not two.

Suppose East held four to the queen-10. West would show out. You would rise with dummy's king and lead a third trump toward your jack.

Suppose the trumps broke 5-0. You would have to pay off.

The late Philip Hal Sims was a giant in every way. He stood six foot three and weighed around 300 pounds that didn't include much fat. He was unquestionably the greatest auction bridge player and no slouch at the game of contract.

Today's hand was misplayed by Oswald Jacoby (then a very young player). Sims, who was watching, said, "You really chucked that one."

Jacoby won the diamond lead in dummy, played the king of trumps and was down one when East showed out on the second lead of the suit.

Ask the Jacobys

A North Carolina reader wants to know how to score seven diamonds redoubled and made with an overtrick. It seems the defenders revoked and made just one trick.

The answer is that the revoke penalty only applies to tricks taken at the revoking trick or later and under no circumstances will it cost the revoking side more than one trick if it only takes one trick.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Granada gores Grizzlies

Hurdler Scott Campbell and High Jumper John Walden turned in key performances as Granada High won its first EBAL track meet, a 106-29 swamp of shorthanded California High.

Campbell was in top form in winning the 330 Low Hurdles in 39.9 and the 120 High Hurdles in a blazing 14.7. That time is second in the EBAL only to Dublin's Chuck Gangnuss, who has clocked a 14.6 in an early season meet.

Walden, Meanwhile, leaped 6-3 in the high jump to give the versatile senior his best jump of the year in dual meet competition.

Granada coach John Sai had plenty of praise for his two tracksters following yesterday's meet at Granada High. "Campbell's been coming down a little each week, " he noted. "He's had to get in shape from basketball season." Campbell's time matched his best of last season, with plenty of meets to go this year.

Walden's leap of 6-3 also pleased Sai. "He's been jumping 6-4 in practice," Sai noted.

Scott Kusko ran his second best lifetime mile, covering the four laps in 4:29.3, just 1.3 seconds off the school record he set last February against Las Lomas.

Brian McSharry went 11-6 in the pole vault for Granada, as the Mat vaulters took all three places. Brad Barton and Steve Sullivan finished behind McSharry.

California took home five first place finishes in the meet, three of those coming from sprinter Willie Huff. The burly senior ran the 100 in 10.3 and won the 220 in 23 4. Huff also anchored Cal's winning 440 relay team with a time of 45.7.

Craig Cline swept both jumps, taking the long jump in 19-2 and the triple jump with an excellent leap of 41-5, almost two feet more than his nearest competitor.

Granada's girls team won again, breezing past the Grizzlies 85-15. Diana Stohr and Kathy Honour each had three firsts for the Matadors.

Stohr ran a complimentary 100 yard dash and wound up breaking the school record with a clocking of 11.6. Stohr also ran a complimentary 220 with the same result; a 26.6 clocking and another school record. In the frosh-soph meet, Bob Hicks continued his excellent 880 time with a 2:08.8, as the Mats nipped the Grizzlies 74-61. Mark McGowan won the triple jump and the high jump for Granada.

Yates quits coaching

Monte Vista High School Athletic Director Gary Yates announced his retirement from coaching Friday, after a 16-year career in the San Ramon Valley.

Yates, who coached the Mustangs' varsity basketball team the past two years, stepped down for two major reasons. He felt a need to spend more time with his family (Gary and his wife, JoAnn, have two teenage sons) and was under an increasing burden of work as athletic director.

The San Ramon High School graduate promised his family last summer that he would quit after the 1975-76 season.

"It was one of the hardest decisions I've ever made," said Yates. "But, my family's priorities come before those of the school."

While he will spend much of his new-found spare time improving his Alamo home, Yates readily admits he will miss the intimacy of coaching.

"What I'll miss most is the close association with individual athletes you have over the course of a long season. I'll still be working with the kids through the Block MV Club, but it won't be the same. "Almost all of the kids I coached here were fine human beings," he said, adding, "I'd be proud to have many of them as my own sons."

The realitites of a dual coach-AD role were also a heavy consideration for Yates, who cited funding as his greatest task as athletic director.

"We've been operating on a bare bones budget for three years as we haven't gotten aid from the federal or state governments. I need more time to promote Monte Vista athletics, especially at the gate".

Upon graduation from San Ramon, Yates spent two years in the Marine Corps before going on to college at San Jose State. From there, he did his student teaching at San Ramon, helping to coach baseball under Mike Gorman.

Two years later, he began a string of diamond successes that led to a chance at full-time high school coaching.

In 1961 and 1962, Yates' Danville Angels Babe Ruth League team won championships and the following two years he coached a Livermore semi-pro team that went 17-3 both years and sent two players, Pat Bayless and Jim Alviso, on to minor league pro ball.

Coming to Monte Vista in 1968, Yates coached, at various times, football and baseball in additional to basketball. His 1971 baseball team ranked tenth in the East Bay at season's end and also had a player, Dave Croft, signed with the pros.

Presently, in addition to his duties as athletic director, Yates teaches two periods of practical math and three periods of physical education per day.

Monte Vista principal Sam Zackheim, with whom the final decision on a new coach will rest, said that Yates resignation was a loss to both the athletic program and the students.

He praised Gary as "hard-working" and "a gentleman," adding, "He'll certainly be missed, but I can understand him putting his family first."

Yates decision did not surprise Zackheim.

"He had talked to me about it," Zackheim explained, "and I tried to talk him out of it — but I couldn't."

Rumors that El Cerrito girls coach Richard "Red" Jones, who coached the Gauchos boys varsity to the North Coast Section championship in 1975 and is currently assisting George Cockerton with the MV baseball team, would come to Danville full time as Yates replacement are apparently unfounded.

"It's wide open right now," Zackheim said of the position, "Nobody has the inside track."

He added that Jones has not applied for the job.

Morton, Bota star for PSC

Sue Morton placed in six events and Andy Bota shattered two team records as Pleasanton Swim Club captured eighth place in the Zone II Swim Championships at Chabot College last weekend.

Twenty-eight teams competed in the two-day event.

Morton swam to three A times and one AA times in her six races. Bota posted a new Thunderbird record in the 50-yard breaststroke, 35.8, and in the 100 freestyle, 57.4. Both were AA times.

Girls meet

The Livermore Girls Soccer Club will reschedule its regular monthly meeting for April on April 7, because of the Easter holiday.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in the LARPD building, 71 Trevarno Road

A hard act to follow

The EBAL girls softball season opens this afternoon as Dublin hosts San Ramon and Foothill travels to Monte Vista, while Amador and Cal take the opening day off. Both games begin at 3:30 p.m.

The Dons will be attempting a third undefeated season as they only lost one player to graduation. Jamie Watson, Sheryl Withoft, Cindy Aafedt and Jean Borton will be returning to the Amador squad, while Deanna Marengo will be back on the mound for the Dons.

Three year starter Debbie Oxsen, recovering from a soccer injury, will be ready for league action, while freshman Jayne Kuhns, who belted two back-to-back home runs in a practice game against Pacific High School, rounds out the Amador squad.

The Dons are 1-0 in pre-season action with a 10-3 win over Pacific.

"This year will be a lot harder," says coach Vivian Straight, "but I think we can pull it off."

Dublin will be out to break Amador's winning streak, as the Gaels will be back with nine experienced players. Coach Tim Peck cites the veteran infield as one of the team's biggest assets.

"We are a defensive team, not a hitting team," Peck commented.

Peck also praised second year pitcher Gail Willard. "She was good last year, but this year she has added aim and control."

The Gaels are 3-0 in pre-season contests with wins over Ygnacio Valley, Mt. Diablo and Kennedy high schools.

Foothill will be trying for a winning season in its second year of varsity softball competition. The Falcons will be utilizing the experience of Carrie McNatt, Chris Echavia, Kelly Grogan and Linda Vaughn as the Foothill club plays their first game of the season today.

Falcon coach Sherri Burroughs feels some apprehension about the upcoming season.

"I haven't seen any other league teams play," explained Burroughs, "and experience does make a difference."

Freshman hurler Lynn Fruchtenicht should prove to be a valuable player for the Foothill club. Fruchtenicht, although lacking in league experience, makes up for that in her quickness.

Monte Vista, 1-1 in pre-season play, will be relying upon returnees Linda Silva, Karin Fischer and Laura Fumagalli. The Mustangs beat Northgate and lost to Clayton Valley High, but, according to coach Mavis Padgett, the Monte Vista club is " working out its problems."

California, with a 12-3 pre-season win over John Swett, will have Cindy Chesser, Wendy Amarino and Kanani Amarino back for another year.

Gaels, Mustangs win golf matches

Dublin and Monte Vista High Schools each came away with an East Bay Ahtletic League golf victory in matches played on the front nine at San Ramon National golf course yesterday afternoon.

Dublin bettered Granada, 206-222, while the Mustangs defeated California, 202-220.

Carl Richardson, a diminutive Monte Vista golfer, had the day's lowest score, shooting a one - over - par 37.

Tom Straeter had a 39 for the Mustangs, followed by Dave Najarian, 41, Ron Low, 42, Mark Nelson, 43. California scores were unavailable to the Times at press time.

Dublin's Chris Cantalini paced the Gaels in the win over Granada with a 39 while Curt Whitaker shot a 40 and Ted Keffeler a 41. Rusty Allan and Mike Davis had 43 for Dublin.

Granada scorers were Ron Timm, 42, Mike White, Leo Hoffmann and Kim Curtis, 44 each, and Jeff Rodie. 48

Wolves sink CP mermen

PLEASANT HILL — The San Ramon High School swim team did a dunk job on College Park yesterday afternoon, 102-67. Meanwhile, the frosh soph team was floundering against the Falcons, losing 97.5-73.5.

The Lobos got off to the right start, winning the first event, the varsity 200 medley relay, in a time of 1:50.6. San Ramon coach Craig Ritts spoke well of Mark Sucksdorf, who swam the opening leg.

The meet was about even until the 100 fly, when Tony Matheney opened it up for San Ramon. From that point, the Lobos took a first and second in every race except one, the 100 freestyle. In that event, San Ramon sandwiched in the Falcon swimmer, taking first and third.

"Matheney usually doesn't take a lot of firsts for us. But he's a good man for points," said Ritts.

One thing College Park did have a grip on was the diving. The Falcons took first in both varsity and frosh-soph, with San Ramon copping a second and third in the varsity.

"A lot of our divers never dove until about a month ago," said Ritts of his frosh-soph squad. "Being freshmen, I can expect pretty good things from them."

Ritts spoke glowingly of individuals, also.

"Doug Williamson, a freshman, did a solid job for us. He is coming off a hand injury, where he had his hand in a cast for about a month. He isn't at top form yet, but he has had some good times."

The most exciting race of the day was the varsity 50-yard freestyle.

Mike Mayhurst of College Park edged San Ramon's Gilliand, 24.0-24.1. The finish brought the crowd up to the very edge of the pool to catch the finish.

The rest of the day, the times averaged about two seconds difference between each place.

Ritts indicated he is looking to the future right now, not only to the North Coast championships, but for several years to come.

He feels his team should do pretty well at North Coast.

"I'm not so sure to go with a freestyle relay team, or our medley team. Our group in the medley did an amazing 1:44 last week, which is a lot better than some times I read in the paper of other varsity teams," said Ritts.

He also made the prediction San Ramon will be a powerhouse in swimming for four or five more years.

"A lot of the swimmers are coming out of AAU-run programs now and many of them are just getting into high school," he said. He feels this should be enough to stock his team with talent to be on top of the East Bay Athletic League for several years to come.

Naz to SD

Livermore captured the regional Nazarene Church basketball tournament last weekend in Santa Rosa, and now the team heads to San Diego next week seeking its third straight championship in a three-state tournament at Point Loma College.

The high-school aged Livermore club was paced by Joey Wujek in clobbering Eureka, 75-41, and San Jose, 79-49, last weekend. Wujek scored 26 points in the final game and picked up the Most Valuable Player trophy.

Hoosiers win, UCLA gets 3rd

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — All-Americans Kent Benson and Scott May combined for 51 points as the unbeaten Indiana Hoosiers rallied in the second half to crush Michigan, 86-68, last night to win the 1976 NCAA basketball championship.

In the game for third place, Marques Johnson scored 30 points and triggered a game-breaking 15-8 spurt midway through the second half to carry UCLA to a 106-92 Victory over Rutgers.

The 6-11, 245-pound Benson scored 25 points on 11 field goals and three free throws as he overpowered the Wolverines inside, while May collected nine field goals and eight charity tosses for 26 points.

The victory for the number one ranked Hoosiers was the 32nd of Indiana's perfect season. Ninth-ranked Michigan wound up 25-7 — with three of those losses coming at the hands of Big Ten foe Indiana.

A 'thrilla in Danvilla'

A showdown the second day of baseball season?

It could happen in Danville this afternoon as Amador Valley High travels to Monte Vista in round two of the EBAL pennant chase.

Both pitching-rich teams won season openers last Friday in spectacular style. The Dons and Mustangs will be out today to establish themselves as early favorites for the league crown.

In other 3:30 games this afternoon, Granada is at home to face California (it is California's home game but the Grizzlies have no field), San Ramon travels to Livermore and Foothill is at Dublin.

The Mustangs are expected to start Darryl Jardine on the mound in a continued effort to keep the team earned run average microscopic. Monte Vista's Greg Goodman fired a 14-strikeout no-hit shutout last week at Foothill.

Monte Vista is rated ninth in the East Bay this week.

The Dons are coming off a spirit-lifting 3-1 win over Granada achieved on Rob Wicks' strong two-hitter. The Matadors were the pre-season favorite for an EBAL pennant.

Amador hopes to retain the services of injured outfielder Chris DePrater, recovering from ankle damage suffered in a practice last week.

Granada, ranked 12th this week, will search for a healthy pitcher to cool down the surprising Grizzlies, who crashed four home runs against Livermore last week.

Junior Bob Parness has a bad back and senior Tim Duke injured his throwing hand.

Sources of Energy — No. 3 of a series

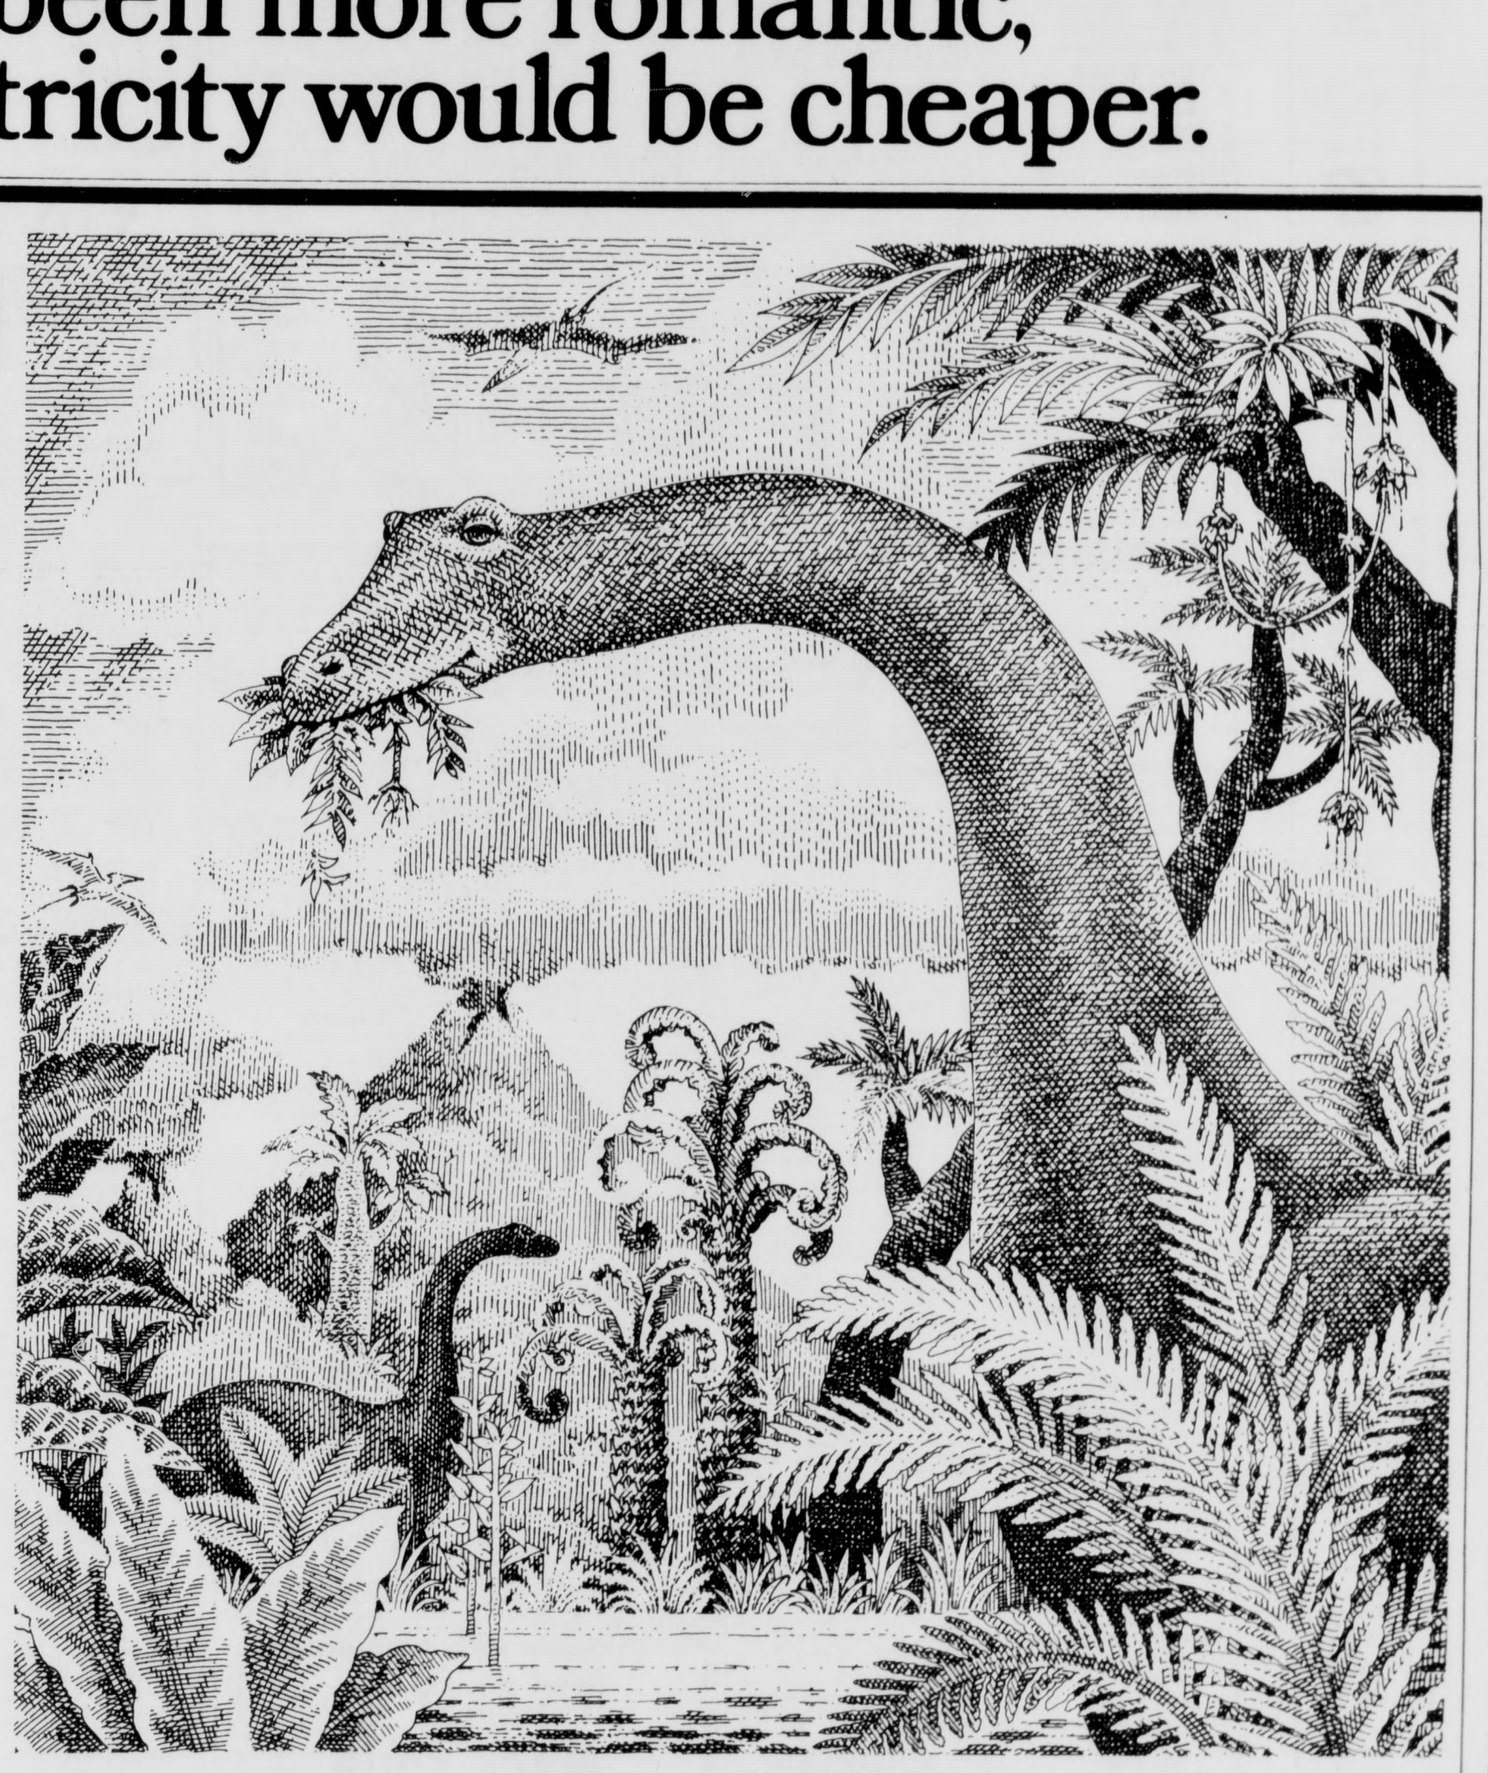
If the Brontosaurus had been more romantic, electricity would be cheaper.

There's power in numbers

Millions of years ago, weird-looking animals and plants populated the earth, on land and in the sea. As they died off, they left vast accumulations of residue. These remains were buried under millions of tons of earth, or of ocean sediments, and slowly evolved into layers of coal, and of pools of oil and natural gas.

More and more, we came to depend on these fossil fuels for energy in our homes, factories and power plants. Had the Brontosaurus and those other creatures existed in greater numbers, no doubt there would be greater quantities of gas, oil and coal today.

Until 1950 California produced all the natural gas it needed. It was an inexpensive and clean source of energy. But as demand grew, we started buying gas from Texas. Then from Canada. And now our supplies are diminishing. One day natural gas may no longer be available for boiler fuel.



Other sources of energy

Gas is one of 5 kinds of natural energy PG&E uses to produce electricity. Another is geothermal steam at The Geysers. It is relatively inexpensive, but even by optimistic estimates, it would supply only about 10% of our needs by 1985.

A third is water power. PG&E has one of the nation's most extensive hydroelectric systems, but nearly all economic and acceptable water power sites were developed over the years. That's why natural gas and oil—our 4th source—had to become more prominent in our energy mix.

In the past 5 years the cost of gas has more than doubled and that of low-sulfur fuel oil has quintupled, accounting for most of our rate increases.

Like other utility systems here and abroad, PG&E has turned to uranium—our 5th source—as an alternative to oil and gas.

Nuclear power plants can produce electricity at about 40% less than new oil-fired plants, despite higher initial construction costs.

Coal one day may be our sixth source of primary energy. We are in the process of acquiring reserves in Utah.

Research in solar electricity shows promise, but its use as a major source is, at best, many years away. Our industry's research in fusion, tidal and wind power some day may make them practical for generating electricity, but they simply are not available for planning today.

Facing the problem together

The demand for electricity continues to grow, partly because population itself continues to grow. The problem of meeting this growing demand is urgent.

For our part, we will continue our urgent efforts to develop all available sources, and to find new ways to use energy more efficiently, to keep you provided with adequate energy and reliable service at the lowest possible cost. For your part, the effective way to help control the supply and the spiraling cost of energy, is to use less of it. We encourage you to do so because the energy you use is too precious ...and too costly...to waste.

Save energy, you'll save money, too.

Not many inmates

Lesher News Bureau

Despite its antiquity and burgeoning population, Contra Costa's jail ranks among the lowest in the state in terms of inmates per capita.

That statistic was released by Sheriff Harry Ramsay in the form of a State Board of Corrections report.

Contra Costa ranked 54th in the 56 counties during 1975, with only Plumas and Sierra Counties showing lower rates, the survey reported.

"Contra Costa's rate was also lower than that in counties that have instituted elaborate and expensive pre-trial release programs which are often held up as examples to be followed," Ramsay said.

"Comparison of the incarceration rates in the various counties should lay to rest the criticism of practices in this county," he continued.

Contra Costa with an average daily jail population of 316 inmates, maintained an incarceration rate of 5.4 inmates per 10,000 citizens.

The nearest conty to Contra Costa with a figure anywhere close was Solano with a rate of 8.3 per 10,000 citizens.

Sacramento County had a rate of 15.1, San Joaquin had 14.5 and San Francisco had 12.5.

Solano has an average daily population of 152 inmates and a corrections board rated capacity of 224. Contra Costa's board-rated capacity is 315.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE OF REAL PROPERTY
Foreclosure No. 909992

NOTICE is hereby given that on April 20, 1976, at the hour of 11:00 A.M. in the lobby of the office of Transamerica Title Insurance Company at 440 Grand Avenue, Oakland, California, TRANSAMERICA TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY, a California corporation, as present Trustee, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in lawful money of the United States, the following described real property situated in the City of Pleasanton, County of Alameda, State of California, and described as follows, to wit:

Lots 32, 33, 34 and 35 of Tract 2517 according to the map thereof filed December 18, 1963 in Map Book 48, Page 22, Alameda County Records.

Said property is commonly known as: 5345, 5363, 5377 and 5391 Sonoma Drive, Pleasanton, California.

SAID sale will be made to satisfy the obligations secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain Deed of Trust executed by MISSION PARK DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION, a California corporation to WESTERN TITLE GUARANTY COMPANY ALAMEDA COUNTY DIVISION, a corporation, as Trustee, for the benefit and security of DENISE THIBAULT, JOHN BENETTI AND MARIO GALEOTTI, Trustees, as joint tenants, as Beneficiary, dated March 14, 1967, and recorded as Instrument No. AZ/24805 on March 20, 1967, in reel 1933, image 218, of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of Alameda County, State of California.

THAT notice of breach of said obligation and election to sell said real property was recorded as Instrument No. 75-149854 on October 15, 1975, in reel 4131, image 362, of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of Alameda County, State of California.

THAT said sale is made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances, or as to insurability of title.

THE beneficiary or any other person or persons may purchase at said sale.

DATED this 25th day of March, 1976.

Substitution of Trustee recorded October 15, 1975 in Re: 4131 Im: 361 Alameda County Records.

Classes open as Adult School registration continues

LIVERMORE — There are still openings in many Livermore Adult School classes.

Although spring quarter started last week, enrollment is still open for the free courses. Registration will continue for the next two weeks or until classes have reached their maximum enrollments.

Being offered for the first time this spring are American literature, California wildflowers, graphic arts and quiltmaking.

Although some classes are filled, openings still exist in bookkeeping, business machines, shorthand, typing, stock market, fire safety and survival (first aid), ceramics, jewelry making, leathercrafts, stained glass, woodcarving, exploring the film, reading improvement, vocabulary, acrylics and oils, basic drawing, calligraphy, oil painting, tole painting, watercolors, piano and organ, guitar, conversational French, German, Japanese and Spanish, men's physical conditioning, self - defense for women, creative stitchery, dressmaking, interior decorating, knitting and crocheting, needlepoint, hone gardening and nature, livestock production, metalworking, photography, upholstery, welding, early childhood education and career decision - making for women.

Registration fee is $4 for one or more classes.

Further information is available from the adult school office at 447-6671, 3044 East Ave., 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 to 10 p m. Monday through Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p m. Fridays.

Child creativity talks scheduled

LIVERMORE — "Encouraging Children's Creativity Through Art" is the title of a new four - session learn and do course to train adults in how to do art projects with children.

Sessions will be held Wednesday mornings, March 31, April 7, 21 and 28, 9 to 11:30 a.m. at the Livermore Public Library, 1000 South Livermore Ave.

Parents, volunteers who work with children at home, school or church are invited to enroll in the free mini - course. Registration will be taken at the first session.

The course will offer ideas and techniques to persons who want to work with children in art activities. The first two sessions focusing on fine arts will be taught by Dorothy Barlett, a local artist and teacher.

Further information on the free course is available from the district's volunteer coordinator, Kay Honodel, at 447-9500. The classes are being sponsored by the Livermore Adult School and School Volunteer Assistants Program.

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY WITH COMPLETE SAFETY

Double your money safely and surely by putting $1,000 minimum in a Franklin 7¾% certificate account (compounded daily for an effective 8.06% annual yield). In less than 9 years, your $1,000 will double to $2,000. Do the same with $5,000 and get back $10,000, or $7,500... doubling it to $15,000. And so it grows, provided you leave your account intact (regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawals).

Other high interest Franklin Savings plans, including immediate withdrawal accounts, are available to suit your convenience, with interest earned from the first of the month on funds deposited by the tenth of the month.

If you are a smoker:
There are many reasons to smoke Now.

If you're a smoker who has been thinking about 'tar' and nicotine, these are the reasons to smoke Now.

Reason: Now has the lowest 'tar' and nicotine levels available to you in a cigarette. 2 mg. 'tar', .2 mg. nicotine.

Reason: Now also gives you real smoking satisfaction. Mild and pleasant flavor. It comes in both filter and menthol.

Reason: Now draws free and easy for a cigarette so low in 'tar' and nicotine.

Reason: Only Now has the specially designed filter which makes all this possible.

Compare 'tar' numbers. You'll see that 2 mg is the lowest.

You couldn't ask for better reasons to smoke Now.
